VOYAGEUR BRIEFS

Mike McGary – Chef de Chemin de Fer

It seems that the choice of membership as a topic last month was very well received by all of the responses I got. You can always tell who the real passionate ones are by how they respond to membership. I know there is a lot of frustration out there, as to why it is so hard to get it in. Through my experience and travels I believe it all comes down to Voiture Activities. Sure, you'll have those Locales with 10 or 12 members pay them up front and not worry about it for the rest of the year. But, those Locales and Grandes with larger numbers need addition stimulation.

That comes from Voiture Activities. We have to get everyone involved and keep them involved ALL YEAR LONG! I don't mean every day of the week but once or twice a month is very feasible. Whether it's a fundraiser for the programs or a fish fry to help those in need to pay their dues, or a dinner dance to bring everyone together. Members just don't want to pay dues just for the sake of belonging. They want to be active and needed. We've all been in the service of our country and told never to volunteer, but ASK a Forty and Eighter to pitch in and help they will be there with bells on. Let's make them feel needed again.

Last weekend was my homecoming in Fort Wayne, Indiana. I will never be able to repay everyone involved for all the work that was done while I was out on the road. The Dames of Indiana, specifically C-364 from Lafayette, In, did an outstanding job making sure no one went hungry. My Aide de Camps did everything that was asked of them and of course then there was "Pretty Boy" Maxwell. He was there from the start a year ago at the planning stage and to the end making sure everything ran like a watch. Thank you all!!!!

We had a great turn out and had a great time. Friday night was live music in the hospitality room and a few were having a really good time, I got pictures. Saturday, was hospitality room, banquet in the evening and then a return to the hospitality room and try to finish off the remainder of the alcohol, we didn't get it done, but we had fun trying. Thanks again to everyone for a great memory.

As some of you know by now the Southland Dixie has been cancelled for next month because of the ongoing health concerns across our nation. I don't know what the future holds for other events, but with all of the sporting events being cancelled, additional weeks for spring break, and businesses having their employees work from home, I sure there may be additional cancellations across the nation. Keep a close eye on our national website as any information regarding those issues will be posted.

In the meantime take care of yourselves and those around you. Wash your hands often and use a sanitizer, if you can find them for purchase. God Bless everyone and this great Nation.

Vice Presidential History

Henry Wilson (born Jeremiah Jones Colbath; February 16, 1812 – November 22, 1875) was the 18th vice president of the United States (1873–75) and a senator from Massachusetts (1855–73). Before and during the American Civil War, he was a leading Republican, and a strong opponent of slavery.

Originally a Whig, Wilson was a founder of the Free Soil Party in 1848. He served as the party chairman before and during the 1852 presidential election. Wilson worked diligently to build an anti-slavery coalition, which came to include the Free Soil Party, anti-slavery Democrats, New York Barnburners, the Liberty Party, anti-slavery members of the Native American Party (Know Nothings), and anti-slavery Whigs (Called Conscience Whigs). When the Free Soil party dissolved in the mid-1850s, Wilson joined the Republican Party, which he helped found, and which was organized largely in line with the anti-slavery coalition he had nurtured in the 1840s and 1850s.

While a Senator during the Civil War, Wilson was considered a "Radical Republican", and his experience as a militia general, organizer and commander of a Union Army regiment, and chairman of the Senate military committees enabled him to assist the Abraham Lincoln administration in the organization and oversight of the Union Army and Union Navy. Wilson successfully authored bills that outlawed slavery in Washington, D.C., and incorporated African Americans in the Union Civil War effort in 1862.

After the Civil War, he supported the Radical Republican program for Reconstruction. In 1872, Wilson was elected Vice President as the running mate of Ulysses S. Grant, the incumbent President of the United States, who was running for a second term. The Grant and Wilson ticket was successful, and Wilson served as Vice President from March 4, 1873, until his death on November 22, 1875. Wilson's effectiveness as Vice President was limited after he suffered a debilitating stroke in May 1873, and his health continued to decline until he was the victim of a fatal stroke while working in the United States Capitol in late 1875.
